Because the present Technical Institute was built for only 1,500 students and now serves more than 7,000, a new building will be built behind the present building on Ulica (Street) 27 Marta. It will contain three separate schools: the Mechanical, Technological, and Construction Colleges (Hydrotechnological Division), and will have entrances from Ruzveltova and Karnedzijeve streets. Two more stories will also be added to the existing Mechanical School building.

The lower floors will contain the laboratories, in which will be assembled heavy machinery and various plumbing installations, while the upper floors will be occupied by lecture halls, designing classrooms, and offices of the faculty. The latter will also double for scientific and research work. Modern air-conditioning equipment is expected to be installed.

Preparatory work on the new building was begun in the summer of 1950 and was given a priority in 1950 construction in Belgrade.

Yugoslav Army Medical School Opened in Belgrade

On 28 April 1950, a Yugoslav Army Medical School was opened in Belgrade, in the renovated buildings and laboratories of the former Yugoslav Main Army Military Hospital.

The school will be used in working out problems of military medicine, and will be the center of higher education for military doctors.
